Anyone may search the 1930 U.S. Federal census at https://www.myheritage.com/census/us/1930census/

or at https://www.archives.gov/research/census/1930

I was going to transcribe this but AI will be able to do this soon with great accuracy and it is more time efficient if the searcher just go to one of the above sites.

The 1940 census is now viewable. There are far too many names for one person even try to type here.

A searcher is better time wise to use a Family Search program to locate relatives. Such as https://www.familysearch.org/en/united-states/

You can earch billions of ancestor profiles, photographs, and historical documents at once—absolutely FREE.
